Salisbury's Kelsey Scott Park to undergo pipe work

Salisbury, N.C. (Thursday, March 17, 2016) – Piedmont Natural Gas will begin work on a natural gas pipeline running through Salisbury's Kelsey Scott Park, Monday, March 21. The project is expected to take two weeks to complete.

The utility company will install a rectifier ground bed over the current pipe to prevent erosion and rusting.

While the park will remain open during this period, residents should be mindful of the groundwork going on in the area parallel to the creek. The construction zone will be marked with orange cones, caution tape and signage.

The City of Salisbury, America's first 10-gigabit city, is located in the heart of the Piedmont region of North Carolina, midway between Charlotte and Greensboro. Salisbury is the county seat of Rowan County, and provides a full range of municipal services, including law enforcement, fire protection, zoning and code enforcement and water and sewer systems.
